

Perrin Named Board Member For Texas

Re-Elected For 2 Years Here

E. A. Perrin, superintendent of Cameron schools has been elected a member of the executive committee of the State Teachers' Association.

In addition to this honor which is second only to that of president of the association, Mr. Perrin has been re-elected superintendent of Cameron schools for another two years. This action was taken by the Board of Trustees at its meeting on Thursday night of last week.

The election of Mr. Perrin to the executive board of the teachers' association occurred in Temple on last Friday. He had been serving as treasurer for the Central Texas division of the state association and was re-elected to that position. Mr. Perrin succeeds Dean Shelby of the University of Texas on the executive board of teachers' association.

At the meeting in Temple Charles Hicks who has been elected president of the teachers' association of Milam county was confirmed as a delegate to the state convention of teachers. He was nominated at Rockdale and confirmed at the Temple meeting.

Mr. Perrin has become one of the more widely known educators in Texas high schools and has built an educational system in Cameron second to none in class B school communities of Texas.

'Dawn Patrol' Film of Week at Cameron

Back in the type of role that brought him to the forefront of the Hollywood acting ranks, Errol Flynn has the leading role in "The Dawn Patrol," coming Sunday to the Cameron Theatre. With him are Basil Rathbone and David Niven, making up the dashing trio of war aces, about whom the story centers.

A wartime drama of hell-for-leather British flying dare-devils, "The Dawn Patrol" gives Flynn the type of role he made popular when he first came to the attention of the American movie-going public as the pirate chief in "Captain Blood." His amazing pace through such brilliant action films as "The Charge of the Light Brigade" and "The Adventures of Robin Hood" left him without equal as a swashbuckler in the film colony. Rathbone is no novice at adventuresome roles, and it was he as Sir Guy of Gisbourne who gave Flynn a run for his money in the final dueling scenes of "Robin Hood." Niven, a young Englishman whose growing popularity has placed him in great demand at the Hollywood studios, has played in several pictures with a war-time locale, and makes a perfect third for the trio, who in "The Dawn Patrol" harass the enemy at every turn with their devil-may-care flying.

Flynn has altered his adventure roles with an occasional comedy, such as the recent hit "Four's A Crowd," or romantic drama. In this field is "The Sisters," in which Flynn, co-starring with Bette Davis, won such high plaudits from the critics that it seems likely he will have many more roles of that type. But, an adventurer in his own right, the actor's own preference is for stories which give him a chance to go into action and fight a good battle. "The Dawn Patrol" is that kind of a story.

Appearing with the trio are Donald Crisp, Melville Cooper, and many others.

Draws Double Compensation Buckholts Man is Fined

Homer E. Solomon of Buckholts was fined twenty dollars and costs and given twenty days in jail when he entered a plea of guilty to charges of defrauding the Workmen's Compensation Commission.

Solomon was injured sometime ago and was receiving compensation for his injuries and at the same time was receiving unemployment compensation. The law provides that one cannot receive unemployment aid while enjoying benefits from another source, covered by the Texas Workmen's Compensation Act.

Hal Jones of Austin, representing the commission, was in Cameron Thursday and reported the case which he said would serve as notice that the law governing will be strictly enforced.

ROCKDALE PLANS POULTRY INDUSTRY

One of the most important poultry meetings ever held in this section of Texas will open Friday morning, February 24, at 10 o'clock in the high school at Rockdale, when plans for the upbuilding of the poultry industry in Milam county and the entire surrounding territory will be discussed.

The meeting is sponsored by the Young Men's Business League of Rockdale, and prominent poultry officials will discuss problems now confronting growers, from the raising of baby chicks on up to culling the flocks for highest production. A blanket invitation is being extended to everyone interested in any phase of the poultry business to attend the entire program.

Mayor E. A. Camp of Rockdale will open the meeting. Among the speaker to be heard are R. M. Sherwood, chief of the division of poultry husbandry, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station A & M College and V. F. Taylor, specialist in poultry diseases of San Antonio.

CITY UNDECIDED ON WATER PLANT

The City of Cameron has under consideration employment of a lawyer to enforce sale of the properties of the Community Public Service Company and although the matter was discussed at length on Monday night at a special meeting called by Mayor Smith, no action was taken.

The water company has refused to sell its plant and the only course left open to the city is to sue for a deed to the property. Why the city does not proceed with the litigation has not been explained. Such action has been contemplated for the past month. The city is attempting to force sale and hopes to be able to reach an agreement with the company without the necessity of doubtful court battle.

Thompson Kemp, who has been agent for the Santa Fe Railway at Heidenheimer, has been transferred to Talpa, Texas, in Coleman county. He came Wednesday to visit with Judge and Mrs. Kemp before going to Talpa.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR BIG BANQUET

By Rev. O. C. Acree

A canopy of tinkling colored lights over their heads, and serpentine confetti filling the air, with swing band melodies pervading the laughter and merriment of banqueters enjoying turkey and dressing with all the trimming, the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet promises to be one of the most attractive affairs that Cameron has ever had.

Plans have been completed by all committees it was announced today by E. A. Perrin, general chairman. At a meeting of all the committees Tuesday afternoon, the annual fete was predicted to draw the largest crowd ever to assemble for such occasions in Cameron. Numbers of requests have been received already for tickets to be sold in nearby communities.

Ninety guests have been invited from all over the state and nation. Distinguished guest of the evening will be Pat M. Neff, former governor of Texas, and now President of Baylor University. The announcement Mr. Neff would be the speaker has arrested a wide interest in the banquet.

Tickets will go on sale in a few days in town. The date is the second Tuesday in March, which is the 14th. The place is the Gymnasium at Yoe High School. The hour is 7:30.

4842 Poll Taxes Paid in County

Milam county's paid poll taxes for 1939 are 4772 with 70 exemptions making a grand total of 4842. These payments were reported by Bill Alex Bonds, collector of taxes.

In the city of Cameron a total of 260 poll taxes were issued.

According to Mr. Bonds this figure compares favorably with non-political years but is far short of the total available vote eligible to pay in the county.

Charges Filed

Otis Ward has been charged with theft of a hog on complaint of Fritz Patzke of the Crossroads community. Ward was arrested at his home and placed under bond to await action of the grand jury. Patzke filed charges when he found the hog in Ward's possession.

Assault Charge Filed

Antonio Cobarrubra is in jail in default of bond, charged with assault with intent to murder. He also faces charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. According to officers a fight occurred at Maysfield on Saturday night.

Clark Gable is reunited with Miss Shearer for the first time since their memorable performances in "A Free Soul" and "Strange Interlude."

Along Commercial Row

Bob Murphy at the A & W Sales Company comes through this week to furnish the big sensation along commercial row. It is the big sale to close out a number of items of merchandise to make ready for restocking other lines. Lower prices are prevailing at this store and in this issue will be found a big advertisement giving the good news to buyers of this community.

Good news for food buyers this week is the Whatley grocery message which announces a car load of vegetables. Each week Mr. Whatley will receive this size shipment of vegetables at his store, including fruits of all kinds. Out of the Magic Valley of Texas, in increased volume, come these choice fruits, now being featured in the Whatley grocery sale. Foods buyers will be interested in the sale which runs through Friday and Saturday.

Dusek Pharmacy also features a disinfectant for the treatment of cotton seed. These items are recommended by leading authorities and are inexpensive to use.

Men only! Robert's 5c to $1 Store is featuring this week a sale on men's ties. This store has a complete stock of beautiful ties, in the newest colors and patterns, featuring

Gause Citizens Make Plea Thursday

Hope was revived here today that the Faubian Bridge over Little River which collapsed several years ago near Gause, would be reconstructed.

Business men and interested citizens of the Gause community were before the Commissioners Court again Thursday. The court took under advisement the project and agreed to ascertain the costs of the bridge.

The plight of many farmers living in the vicinity of this bridge site has been repeatedly presented to the court. The Faubian bridge is the only span across the stream between Cameron and the Brazos. In times of high water livestock cannot be taken from the lowlands as was possible when the bridge was up. For a vast section of the farm lands the situation has resulted in many families deserting their homes and moving to other neighborhoods.

Land owners who live on the east side of the river and in the Gause community cannot reach their lands except by way of Hearne or Cameron. Cotton must be taken to Hearne or to Calvert.

The loss of the bridge has been a heavy blow to Gause and its business men, as well as citizens. The Commissioners Court is without funds to build the bridge but money has been offered to the county for the construction, as a loan.

It was pointed out here Thursday that all other sections of the county have bridge facilities while Gause and a vast territory looking east to the Brazos is handicapped for lack of a span to cross Little River.

Comedy Gets Break In Top Picture for The Week End

Slim Summerville and Arthur Treacher, the two tallest comedians in motion pictures, appear together for the first time in "Up The River," the new 20th Century-Fox picture coming Saturday to the Cameron Theatre.

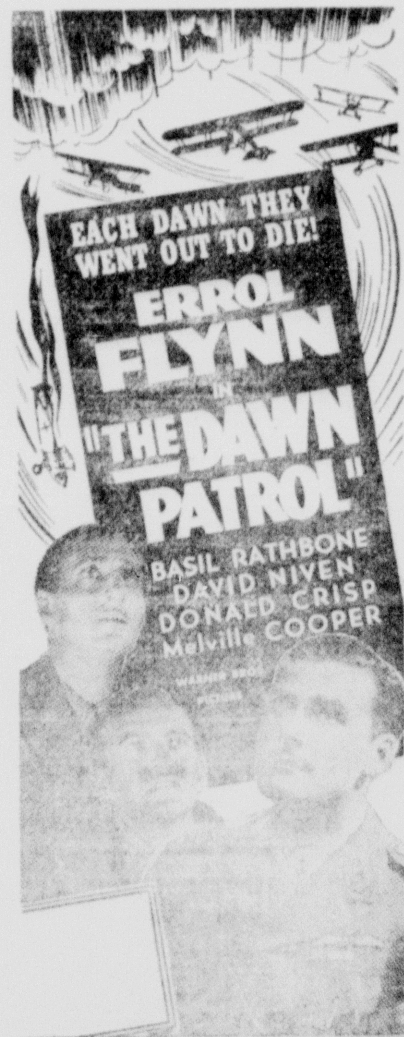

When Preston Foster, Tony Martin, Phyllis Brooks and other members of the cast learned from Director Alfred Werker that the big boys had been assigned to the picture, much speculation was made as to who was the taller.

"From what I've seen of the boys," Tony Martin said, "I'm inclined to think Arthur is just a shade taller than Slim."

Phyllis Brooks didn't think so and neither did Preston Foster. "We're sticking with Slim," they insisted.

So Werker got a tape measure and stood the boys up against a wall—

OUR CONGRESSMAN

The House has begun to speed up and show some tangible results. The early part of the week was devoted to a consideration of the appropriations bill for the "Independent Offices"—that is, government agencies that are not a part of any regular department like the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Civil Service Commission, the Federal Home Loan Board, the Tennessee Valley Authority, and dozens of similar agencies. This bill is long. It covers many very different types of work. The most bitterly fought item in the bill was the appropriation to a continuation of the work already commenced on the great Gilbertville Dam on the Tennessee River just above its mouth. This is primarily a flood control dam designed to help protect Cairo, Illinois and the country along the Lower Ohio and Middle Mississippi Valleys. Its construction would, however, produce some power, and not only did all the power people fight this appropriation, but the coal producing regions as well joined in an effort to prevent the construction of the dam. I voted for continuing the work, but the opponents were successful in striking out all appropriations for this work. Of course, the bill was finally passed as amended.

Later in the week we appropriated the money necessary for the Dies

Committee on Un-American and Subversive Activities to continue its work.—The committee was given $100,000 and was given until the first of next year in which to report. There were a number of members who do not believe in this committee who tried to cut the appropriation down so low as to keep it from actively functioning, and failing in this, some of these same congressmen sought to require the committee to report before Congress adjourns this Summer. Of course, all of these efforts were but attempts to make the committee ineffective. I think that it is well to turn the light on all un-American activities and so I voted to give this committee both time and money for its work. It will be well worthwhile if it but arouses public sentiment in this country so that we will demand the suppression of foreign influences within our own country.

In this connection, I feel that it is just as important to protect our Government from enemies at home as from those abroad. Next week we will take up the Army Appropriations Bill, and I am sure there will be a great difference of opinion as to just how far we should go in the matter of rearmament. I believe that we should take every reasonable step to provide for our own defense. I do not think that we should involve ourselves in any foreign alliances, and in this connection I feel that there is doubtless some misunderstanding about the sale of airplanes to France and England. This is a perfectly regular transaction. Any nation that is at peace can buy airplanes here if they have the money with which to pay. This has always been our policy. There can be no reason for denying France the same privilege that all other nations enjoy. Of course, the President has pointed out that supplying the needs of a friendly nation was not only good business, giving employment to our working men and a market for our raw materials, that it not only strengthened the ties of friendship (not of any alliance) that properly existed between our country and all of the Democracies of the World, but that in addition it enabled us to build up and have ready for our own use, should need arise, the plants and personnel for mass production of our aerial needs.

Yesterday, the House passed a far-reaching measure whereby the Federal Government will, hereafter, tax the income of State and local officials, and the States and localities in turn may tax the incomes of Federal officials. Heretofore, neither government has taxed the salaries paid to officials of the other, but it seems that this practice has resulted in making many officials unresponsive to the effect of increased taxation. We hope this will make them tax conscious. It will make all public officials pay the same taxes on their income that any other citizen pays. In passing, however, I want to say that, contrary to general opinion, Congressmen have always been subject to income tax, and I have had to pay all the taxes that any other citizen of Texas has to—and this is as it should be.—The new act will, I trust, be followed by one subjecting Government bonds to taxation, thereby wiping out all exceptions.

This Bible School is a Bible study hour for young and old. There are classes for all age groups; come to do what Jesus says, John 5, 39: "Search the Scriptures!" God's holy Word shows us the way to eternal blessedness and life. St. Paul reminds his friend Timothy that "from a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures which are able to make three wise unto salvation." Timothy had learned the Scriptures from childhood, taught by his mother and grandmother. The divinely inspired Scriptures impart heavenly wisdom; through them God gives a good understanding to all who love His Word; for time and eternity, God blesses us through His Word. Surely, we and our children need the divine wisdom which the Scriptures only can give us.

BIBLE SCHOOL, English, 9:30 a. m.

This Bible School is a Bible study hour for young and old. There are classes for all age groups; come to do what Jesus says, John 5, 39: "Search the Scriptures!" God's holy Word shows us the way to eternal blessedness and life. St. Paul reminds his friend Timothy that "from a child thou hast known the holy Scriptures which are able to make thee wise unto salvation." Timothy had learned the Scriptures from childhood, taught by his mother and grandmother. The divinely inspired Scriptures impart heavenly wisdom; through them God gives a good understanding to all who love His Word; for time and eternity, God blesses us through His Word. Surely, we and our children need the divine wisdom which the Scriptures only can give us.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Mind is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, February 19.

The Golden Text is: "Be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous" (1 Peter 3:8.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:5.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we realize that there is one Mind, the divine law of loving our neighbor as ourselves is unfolded; whereas a belief in many ruling minds hinders man's normal drift towards the one Mind, one God, and leads human thought into opposite channels where selfishness reigns" (page 205.)

Mr. Smarty

... Well, it is and if it were lighted at the proper time I would have hot water for shaving each morning. Besides a new one costs too much.

Practical Wife

... We would not have to bother about lighting a new heater for it works automatic. Gas Company salesman was here yesterday and offered a trade-in allowance on our old heater and said monthly terms are so small we'd hardly miss the money.

Of course, when Mr. Smarty found out the special monthly terms and the extra convenience of an automatic hot water heater he was quick to make a deal with Gas Company salesman. Now he is off to work on time each morning and his practical wife's household work is made lighter.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Secrest of Austin were week end guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hyer.

Rev. J. R. Ritchie of Wills Point and daughter, Mrs. E. E. Robinson have been guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Meyer this week.

Fifty years ago Mr. E. Fischer and Miss Matilda Richter were united in marriage. Rev. J. E. H. Schorer, Lutheran minister, now of San Antonio, officiated. He was unable to attend their golden wedding anniversary much to their disappointment, but his son, Rev. S. T. Schroeder, pastor of the Rockdale Lutheran Church represented him on this happy occasion. On Sunday, February 12, this fiftieth wedding anniversary celebration was begun at the morning hour of worship at the Hope Lutheran Church, of which they are members, when a special service was held in their honor, by Rev. A. E. Flathmann, their pastor. All their children, their families and a number of other relatives were there to share in this honor. Following this service a wedding feast, turkey dinner, was served at the Fischer home to Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Flathmann, Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Schroeder of Rockdale, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. A. Fuchs and daughter, Lela and son, Lorenz III, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fischer and daughters, Asalee and Lillie, sons, Lorenz and Billie Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fischer and daughter, Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. Adolf Fischer and daughter, Dorline and son, Ernest, all of Buckholts; Dr. and Mrs. Walter Fischer of Temple, Dr. and Mrs. Alvin M. Fischer and Willie Fischer of Coleman, (the latter's wife and son, Adrell were unable to attend.) Other than the above named children and families were Frank Fischer, brother of E. Fischer, son in law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kiser and baby daughter of New Ulm, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zaleski and daughters, Dorothy Jean and Jo Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Richter, a brother of Mrs. Fischer and Miss Mollie Richter a sister, all of Buckholts. A color scheme of gold was observed in table appointments. Lovely yellow snapdragons and other flowers of the same hue were used for table and house decorations. A large three tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated, a golden bell on top, centered the table. After 3 p. m. the house was open to the many friends who called to congratulate and extend good wishes. To these guests were offered sandwiches, cake and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Fischer are indeed pioneer residents of this community, having lived on the same large farm, in the same house, except it was only a three room dwelling to begin with, and now is a large one, since their marriage fifty years ago. Here quite near Buckholts, they have reared a large family, who have in turn married and established homes of their own. It was a joy to these parents and these children to be re-united on this glad occasion if only for a brief day.

SOCIAL MEDICINE IS DISCUSSED BY BRINDLEY

"The cry for social medicine is not from the rank and file of citizens of these United States but from a group of men who are obsessed with political social schemes," Dr. C. G. Brindley told the Cameron Lions Club at their noon luncheon Tuesday. The speaker brought an informative, intelligent and interesting address. He discussed Social Medicine outlining the proposed advantages in favor and the disadvantages against such practice in the United States. The physician said among the many favorable aspects is the doctors who are idle part of the time because they are waiting for patients to come to them will be busy attending many people who really need medical attention but will not come to the doctor. Hospitals with many empty beds will find many patients needing hospitalization taking these beds. Despite modern scientific progress there are far too many unnecessary deaths among children and deaths from preventable diseases. Diagnostic centers supported by the government with latest scientific methods available to any person will eliminate many of these deaths. Dr. Brindley in speaking of the disadvantages pointed out that when comparison is made between countries employing social medicine and those not using it, the death rate is higher in the countries using social medicine schemes. The scheme has proven impracticable and expensive. Thirty-five million people in Germany require more than 4 times as much as 30 million using private medical care. These schemes do not provide for the indigent. Other unfavorable factors named included the fact that the best doctors will not enter social medicine unless forced to do so. The best men will not enter this field if they are forced to such schemes. Doctors will have less time for attention upon serious illness because of time that will be taken for minor illness and malingerers which do not come to the doctors now. Facts have proven that in the countries employing social medicine quackery is not eliminated. Germany has 13,000 quacks now under state medicine. Another fact worth considering is that in England there are more insurance administrators than doctors under the state system. The cost of operating the system is more than half what is paid the doctors to practice. Dr. Brindley cited facts to show that U. S. mortality rates are lower than any country using social medicine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Ernst of Burlington are the happy parents of a baby girl born Sunday, February 12. The baby girl who has been named Marlene Marie, weighed nine and one-half pounds. She is the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Ernst, who also have a five year old boy.

Call to Public Service.

If someone on Jan. 1, 1938, had told me that I would be nominated Governor of Texas before the year was out, I would have been the first one to laugh in his face. Over the years, at two-years intervals when we chose our public officials, I had been asked repeatedly by many of our listeners to consider entering the race for Governor. It had always seemed ridiculous to me that folks would want me to make such a race, because I have never been a politician. It had always seemed next to impossible for a plain, ordinary citizen and common garden-variety businessman like myself to beat the politicians with all their money and their moneyed backers. I never gave much consideration to the matter.

But this year as I traveled over the state on business I found a greater spirit of unrest and dissension with old-style politics than ever before. The file of my day-by-day radio scripts gives a lasting record of the thoughts running through my head as they were determined by my reactions to life around me and to what people were saying and writing to me.

What Is Wrong? Everyone Asks.

Back in February I find that I was saying on a Sunday program:

Although we are a great and mighty people, although we have wealth untold, yet I believe many of you will agree with me that today, possibly more than ever before, we are worried, we are at a loss to know where we are, what we are doing and where we are heading. This last week I had an opportunity to mingle with a group of farmers—the salt of the earth. They are at sea. They can see the course we are pursuing is not bringing results as expected. I have talked with businessmen and their one question is "What is wrong?" I have talked with students of law and with public officials, and they do not have the answer.

I wish I might possess the great answer, but I am one of the millions who recognize my humbleness and crave for greater knowledge. In my own plain and humble way I can only resort to the age-old, and perhaps slightly out-moded practice of prayer. I am one who recognizes that One and only One can guide our destiny. When we return to the submission of His will and recognition of His laws, particularly the Golden Rule with His commandment to love thy neighbor as thyself, then—and then only—my friends, will we have the answer to the question on most everyone's lips today of what is wrong.

More Letters Urge Me Make Race

The political campaign of 1938 was slow in arousing our people. A group of old-line politicians figured that the results were in the bag already, and that the people perhaps would not bother to argue that prediction. Some of the candidates for high office began their speech-making tours. One candidate for Governor asked permission of me as the composer to use my song, Beautiful Texas, at his opening rally. And I agreed to let him do so. But all the while more letters than in any previous campaign year came in to me, urging that I consider making the race. One letter perhaps above all others made me stop and consider seriously whether I had any responsibility in this matter. It came from the Rev. R. F. Shinn, whom I have never met, but who stated that he is a blind evangelist and that, although blind, he had chosen as his life's work the task of leading those who can see to the Light. He wrote me in part as follows:

"Dear Mr. O'Daniel: Your programs on the radio are marvelous. I told my wife the other day that you had a heart as big as our wash kettle and a soul as big as Texas. You are doing a great good outside of your business. I knew you would really sell your flour when you first started; in fact, I knew you would succeed in anything you undertook. That is the reason I am asking you now to consider and champion a certain course. Why don't you run for Governor of Texas; you would be elected. We need a big-souled man in there. Mr. O'Daniel, please give this prayerful consideration and do something about it."

Found Lesson From Hogs.

These letters from Brother Shinn and others made me pause and seriously ponder. I was convinced that the time had come when the people of Texas should have a chance to get free of old-line politics, but I was not certain at first that I would be the instrument to offer them this freedom. I weighed seriously the qualifications I might have to be the Governor of the greatest state in the union. I looked back over my life and remembered the first job that was ever given to me. It was back on Dad Baker's ranch in Kansas. It was one that many folks would not think either pleasant or important. He gave me the job of slopping the hogs. But I really threw my whole heart and soul into that job. And I remember that while we had plenty of slop for all the hogs, there were a few big, slick fat hogs that kept chasing the little hogs away from the trough. The fat ones kept getting fatter and the thin ones kept getting thinner. And finally the fat ones just laid down in the trough and the thin ones couldn't get a bite, until I got a club and ran the fat ones off. Then there was food enough for all. And our hogs did fine.

And I got to wondering why, here in this great state of Texas, a few seemed to be getting most of the good things of life, while many poor folks got poorer and poorer. I looked around me and saw that we have enough natural resources to feed practically the whole world. I looked back over my business career. Although times have been hard and picking has been thin lots of times, I didn't remember ever running my own business so that I had to make an assessment on the stockholders, and in all modesty, and in humble deference to the Divine Will I came to the conclusion that I was able, if placed in a position of public power, to remedy many of the grave difficulties in our public life.

But I refused to make such a grave decision solely on my own responsibility. I decided, therefore, to do an unheard of thing on my next radio program.

A Request of the People.

The question whether I should make the race for Governor of Texas weighed heavily, as I said, on my mind. But I had reached the conclusion in my mind that, if elected, I could tackle the big job successfully. But I was not convinced that enough people believed that I should make the race to justify me in making an announcement. Therefore, I appealed to our many thousands of friends within the sound of my voice to say what they thought of this proposal. The radio program happened to fall on Palm Sunday, one year after the memorial service for my precious little friends who lost their lives in the New London school disaster. I began with a reference to the religious significance of Palm Sunday:

Good morning, ladies and gentlemen. This is W. Lee O'Daniel speaking in person from the friendly city of Fort Worth. This is Palm Sunday, so named and observed by the Roman Catholic Church by blessed palm branches and carrying them in a procession in memory of Christ's triumphant entry into Jerusalem, the first of a series of services which culminate in those of Good Friday. Another War Feared.

And possibly never before in history has there been more genuine cause for thoughtful prayer than on this Palm Sunday which precedes Good Friday, Easter, and for all we know, perhaps another world war. The evil of this world is brought about by those who disregard the teachings of Him whose resurrection is commemorated one week from today.

We shall now attempt something that is rather difficult, the singing of that beautiful song, The Rosary, to the accompaniment of a fiddle band. But we wish to dedicate this song to our Catholic friends everywhere and Leon the Texas Songbird will do the vocalizing.

On this program today, friends, I am going to discuss a problem which many of you have been urging me to discuss for several years. I have consistently refrained from making any mention of it. It pertains to the governorship of this great State of Texas. Your letters are so numerous this year and so sincere that I feel it my sacred duty to give some answer. Now I am only an ordinary citizen of humble birth. And to me the office of Governor is such a high honor that I have hesitated to take seriously the numerous letters I have received urging me to make the race. But here is one that makes me wonder what I should do about this matter.

Here I read the letter from the Rev. R. F. Shinn.

And, my friends, letters have come to me from folks in all walks of life.

I wish I had time to read all of them on the air. And as the world has learned much from the parables of old, may I now inquire, Is the preacher blind? While pondering that question seriously let us be mindful of the trouble and trials and problems of so many of our citizens and the grave responsibilities of the high office of Governor of the great State of Texas. Such matters should be considered prayerfully, indeed, which we will now do as the Hill-billy Boys sing that beautiful old hymn Throw Out the Life Line. Do You Want Me?

Friends, as you know, I am no politician. I am by profession a businessman. Consequently I am going to go about this matter quite differently than a politician would. Instead of announcing, Ladies and gentlemen, I am your candidate for Governor; vote for me, I am going to say, Do you want me to be a candidate? The only thing that can persuade me to make the race would be because good citizens of Texas insist that I run. So if you want a Governor who will try to work after your interests conscientiously, and if you believe that I am the man who will do that, write me a letter today. And those of you who really want to do something more, ask your friends to write me, or get some sheets of paper and write across the top of the sheet We want W. Lee O'Daniel to run for Governor. Get your friends and neighbors to sign their names and mail those letters to me this coming week at P. O. Box 725, Fort Worth, Texas.

In addition to your letters and advice, friends, may I also ask for your prayers that I may make the right decision in this most momentous question of my whole life.

Remember this, I am not now announcing my candidacy for Governor. I am not trying to push myself on you. I have a satisfactory job now and plenty of work to do. But if enough of you folks send in letters and petitions, I will gladly consider your wishes. This is something new in politics, because you never heard of a candidate broadcasting in advance, asking whether the people wanted him or not. This procedure is quite different, and if we should choose to run, my campaign will be quite different.

Next Week—54,499 Letters.

An event of much importance to friends here was the wedding of Miss Regina Hollas and William Pierce of Austin which took place at St. Monica's Catholic Church here on last Saturday morning, February 11, at 9:00 o'clock. Father Pieper of Austin performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in white satin and wore a three-quarter length veil caught at the forehead in a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her dress was long sleeved with pointed cuffs, a flaring skirt and had tiny covered buttons down the back. She wore over it a fitted bolero also trimmed in covered buttons. She carried in her hand a white prayer book made attractive with long streamers of ribbon and lilies of the valley. Miss Edna Hollas, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, wore a light blue taffeta dress with a large hat made of net and trimmed with a lovely bouquet of flowers. Miss Geraldine Garza of Austin, friend of the bride, who was the other attendant, wore a dark blue taffeta dress with accessories like those worn by Miss Hollas. Jim Kelleher of Corpus Christi, friend of the groom, was best man and Edward Fleming who is assistant coach at St. Edward's, was the other attendant. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hollas of Cameron. Before moving to Cameron the Hollas family were residents of Edna, where Mrs. Pierce received her high school education. For the past several years she has been in Beaumont where she was employed. The groom is a native of Sherman. He is a graduate of Notre Dame and is at present football coach at St. Edwards University at Austin. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hollas of Cameron. Mr. Hollas is the bride's brother. Following the breakfast, attended only by close friends and relatives the couple left for an extended wedding trip which will take them to points of interest in Texas and Louisiana. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce will make their home in Austin.

W. DuBois local agent for the Santa Fe Railway and Miss Lila Jeter of Rogers were quietly married here on Saturday, February 4, at the home of Rev. A. J. McCary, pastor of the First Methodist church. The ceremony was witnessed only by close relatives and was performed at noon by Rev. McCary. Miss Jeter was born and reared at Rogers and has many friends in that community who will be pleased to know of her marriage to Mr. DuBois. They left Cameron immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip to Monterey, Mexico. They will return to Cameron to make their home. Harsha and her officers entertained with a Mexican Banquet, Thursday evening, Feb. 5, at the Masonic Hall, in the recently refurbished dining room. The long tables were laid with red crepe paper covers, a green strip running down the center where growing Texas Cactus in Mexican pottery, lent a pretty scene to the well appointed affair. Hand painted paper plaques for plate favors, bore the program on reverse side of the plaque. Tall red burning tapers in silver holders shed light over the scene. Mr. Niley Smith gave the invocation; Toast to the honored guests was given by Miss Annie Woolley, responded to by Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp. Mrs. Eber Flinn favored the guests with a reading and graciously responded to a hearty encore. Misses Lucille Stedman, M. Frances Bredon and Grady Baskin, rendered delightful Mexican music in a cornet trio. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Miller of Palestine, parents of Mrs. Harsha, and a sister, Mrs. Bard Hutcherson of Palestine, and Mrs. John Copley of Cameron. A number of the chapter members were present and enjoyed this delightful occasion. Mrs. Jeff T. Kemp, Misses Alice McGehee and Dephya Scott were appointed by the worthy matron to organize a Past Matron and Past Patron Club in the future.

On Wednesday the Cameron Symphony Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Niley Smith. A short business meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Pope Sapp, after which Miss Margaret Bloebaum led the program with a discussion of the life of the operatic composer, Wagner. Special emphasis was placed upon his opera, "Die Meistersinger Von Nurnberg." Mrs. Tyrone Kelly entertained the group with piano selections and Mrs. W. G. Harsha with vocal selections.
